Case Study: From Clicks to Conversions – The Journey of a Richardson-based Seller

Client Overview:

A mid-sized home décor brand based in Richardson was struggling to scale on Amazon. Despite a healthy number of impressions and clicks, the conversion rate remained under 4%. Ad spend was high, and the return on ad spend (ROAS) was declining month over month.

Challenge:

- High click-through rate (CTR) but poor conversions.
- Generic keyword targeting that attracted irrelevant traffic.
- Lack of product listing optimization aligned with ad strategy.

SpectrumBPO's Approach:

1. In-Depth Account Audit:

The SpectrumBPO experts performed a full audit of the brand's Amazon advertising account, identifying wasted spend on low-performing keywords and unoptimized product pages.

2. Precision PPC Strategy:

Leveraging their role as the best amazon ppc agency, SpectrumBPO restructured campaigns into tightly themed ad groups, focusing only on high-intent, purchase-ready keywords.

3. Creative & Listing Optimization:

Product titles, bullet points, and images were optimized to align with the ad messaging, ensuring shoppers saw a consistent and persuasive story from the ad click to the product page.

4. Data-Driven Scaling:

Ads were continuously A/B tested. Campaigns delivering the best ROAS were scaled, while underperforming ads were paused or re-optimized.

Results in 90 Days:

- Conversion rate jumped from 4% to 11%.
- Ad spend efficiency improved with a 53% increase in ROAS.
- Overall sales grew by 72%, with consistent month-over-month growth.
